POETRY.

From the Ladies' National Magazine for May.

Song of May.

BY MRS. CATHARINE ALLAN.

The joyous month of May has come,
And perfumes lead the air;
The bee is out with drowsy hum,
The angler throws his snare;
The silver water from the hill
Will music dance along,
And hark! the morning woodlands thrill
With many a warbler's song!

The violet blows beside the stream,
The blood-root in the wood,
With daisies all the meadows gleam,
Like stars on solitude!
The lilac blooms by larches thin,
The grass springs green and gay,
And song and beauty usher in
The laughing month of May!

From the New Haven Register.

To the Blue-Bird.

Sweet harbinger of early Spring!
Thy voice is ever dear;
Thou comest on thy azure wing,
A tale of coming joys to bring,
With music sweet and clear.

And at thy voice, the early flowers
Once more to being spring,
And tell us of the sunny hours,
The balmy air and gentle showers
The summer days shall bring.

The care-worn townsman hears thy song,
He listens for thy voice,
And as he slowly moves along
Amidst the crowded city's throng,
It makes his heart rejoice.

And therefore does he turn away,
And leave the crowd behind—
And through the crowded meadow stray,
And feel upon his forehead play
The soft and gentle wind.

The weary scholar at his books,
From out his casement leans;
Thinks of the murmuring stream and brooks,
The fair glens and quiet nooks,
His boyhood's early scenes.

He lays his dusty volume by,
And with a heart of joy
He seeks the field with sparkling eye,
And roams beneath the bright blue sky,
As when he was a boy.

A thousand thanks to thee, sweet bird!
For the message thou dost bring—
The feelings of the heart are stirred
Whenever thy tuneful voice is heard,
Sweet warbler of the spring!

Events of the Year.

The town, of Little Compton, at a Special Town Meeting, passed resolutions in favor of a Convention to adopt the Constitution of the Union, and appointed a committee to draw up instructions for their Representatives in the General Assembly.

The majority of the Legislature of Rhode Island, thought proper, instead of calling a Convention as they were requested to do by Congress, submitted the question of a Constitution to the freemen of the several towns to be acted upon by them in their Town Meetings. This mode of decision was strongly opposed by the Representatives from the Commercial towns, but to no effect. The 4th of March was the day appointed for the several towns to consider the question; those who were in favor of a federal Constitution disliking the mode, refused to vote. In Newport only eleven persons voted, ten against and one in favor; in Providence only one voted, and he in the negative. In Warwick and East Greenwich, the friends of the Constitution entered a protest against the mode of decision as illegal and unprecident; Little Compton and Bristol were the only towns in the State that gave a majority in its favor.

On counting the votes in the General

Assembly, they stood 2708 nays and only 237 yeas.

Abraham Redwood, Esq.* formerly one of the Assistants of the Colony, and a gentleman distinguished for his many acts of munificence, died at Newport, on the 8th of March, 1788, aged 79.

Dr William Fletcher,† an eminent Physician, died at Newport March 9th 1788 aged 42.

The Society of Friends, presented a memorial to the General Assembly against the Tender and Limitation acts.

By a report made to the General Assembly it appeared that there had been paid for the 2d payment on the State Debt £10,495, 4s 8d. The holders of the balance refused to receive Paper Money, and therefore forfeited.

The Collectors were authorized to receive in payment the Notes not exceeding £10 provided the holders had taken their first and second dividends.

*ABRAHAM REDWOOD, was the son of Abraham Redwood, formerly of Bristol, England, and Mehitable his wife, daughter of Jonas Langford of the Island of Antigua. At what time they came to Rhode Island is unknown but Mrs. Redwood, died at Newport in 1726; they belonged to the Society of Friends.

Mr. Redwood, by the death of an elder brother, became the sole heir of the large estates of his grandfather Langford, in Antigua, said to be worth at that time from 5 to £7000 sterling per annum. He married and settled in Newport, where for more than half a century, he lived in a style suitable to a gentleman of fortune and leisure. He was a great patron of literature and with Henry Collins and others belonged to a Literary Society which was established as early as 1730; they in 1749 founded a Library at Newport, for the promotion of Literature in the Colony. Mr Collins gave the lot, and Mr Redwood gave Five hundred pounds sterling for the purchase of books. The institution was called the Redwood Library Company, after its generous benefactor.

Mr Redwood before the Revolution was for several years one of the Assistants of the Colony, until the excited state of parties occasioned by the rival factions of Ward and Hopkins, induced him to retire to private life. He enjoyed the friendship of most of the literary and professional men of that day; and he widely diffused around him the blessings which his ample fortune enabled him to dispense.

He died on the 9th of March 1788 at the age of 79 years. He had three sons and one daughter. His surviving sons, to whom he left his West India estates, went to England soon after his death; his only daughter married the late Benjamin Ellery, Esq. of Newport.

† DR. WILLIAM FLETCHER.—This gentleman, was a Surgeon in the British Navy during the war of the Revolution, and was stationed at Newport during most of the time, where he acquired an attachment to the place; after the peace having retired on half pay, he came to America and settled at Newport as a Physician.

After a successful practice of a few years, in which he acquired great reputation as a Surgeon.—He died after a short illness in 1788 from a disease of the heart, and was interred in the Common burial place, where a monument was erected to his memory by his widow; it bears the following inscription:

In Memory of
who died March 9, 1788,
aged 42 years.

He was born in England, in Carniel Parish and County Palatine of Lancaster; for three years before his death he resided in this City, where he acquitted himself in the various duties of his profession with honor and integrity; he led the life of a gentleman and died like a Philosopher.

Atlantic Steam Navigation.—The New York Senate have passed, with certain amendments as to the matters of form, the Assembly bill incorporating a company for the purpose of establishing lines of steamships between New York and Liverpool and New York and Havre. The capital of this Company is $2,000,000. It is intended to build seven ships, of two thousand tons burthen, to form two separate semi monthly lines to England and the Continent. It is expected that it will require twelve months to build the heavy engines for these vessels, and six months more to put them in the hulls, and finish the ships for sea.—Every thing is to be manufactured in this country, and most of the capitalists engaged in the enterprise, belong to New York. The ships are expected to cost some $300,000 each.

Penalty of Gambling.—Two gamblers have been convicted in New Orleans.—The penalty attached by law to the crime is for the offence a fine of not more than $5000 and not less than $1000, or confinement in the parish jail. For the second offence, it is not less than $5000 or confinement in the penitentiary.

A FACT FOR THE MILLION.—Every man in difficulty, poverty or despondency, should think, when at the verge of utter despair, that there are others in the world worse off than himself, who are happy and contented. A striking illustration of this fact occurred for the edification of a poor friend of ours a month since.

"I was," said he, "out of business, entirely. I had exhausted all methods the excise of which was likely to procure me employment. I was walking down Broadway with a solitary shilling in my pocket, and hunger gnawing at my vitals, in that desperate mood which may be properly termed partial insanity, and in the fullness of my woe was absolutely contemplating suicide, when a collection of people, gathered about the door of a princely mansion diverted my attention. I beheld a decrepit old man, bent double with age, and so feeble that two burly domestics were with their united strength aiding his trembling and uncertain steps. He was nearly blind quite deaf, and I was told, possessed to a limited extent only the faculties of taste and smell. He was taking his customary morning walk—a hobble from the door of his dwelling in the nearest corner."

The man alluded to is the famous millionaire about whom books have been written, and newspaper paragraphs innumerable concocted.

"I thought," said our friend, "that I with my single shilling, was in a glorious situation compared with that of the individual before me, and I went my way with a beaming countenance and a lightened heart, thanking heaven for the health and strength I then enjoyed; but had despised. I have never despaired since."

Noah's Mes.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Captain Place of Stratford, N. H., who went out after the last snow with his gun and dogs to hunt foxes, set his gun up against a tree while he set his trap, and probably got some snow in the barrel, and soon after he saw a hawk flying, and sprang the left hand barrel of his gun at him. An hour after he came to himself and found that fragments of his gun and pieces of his heavy thick pilot coat, lined and wadded throughout with cotton, were lying all around him. The left cuff of his coat and a thick wrist were burnt to crisp without, however, much injury to the flesh. He found twelve pieces of his stock in different parts of his great coat. In one pocket was a pair of thick net gloves that stopped the force of several pieces that went through them and lodged in the cotton against the lining on the left leg hard enough to cause considerable pain in that limb.

The gun was loaded as he usually loaded it for foxes, and most probably burst by getting snow into it. The Captain picked up sixty-nine pieces of his gun and brought them home with him.

FIRE.—We regret to learn, (says the Selma Free Press,) that the little village of Perryville in the county of Perry, was entirely consumed with the exception of one house, during last week. It was visited with fire two consecutive nights. There were two stores in the place—one belonging to Messrs Ford, the other to Mr Melton. The first named gentlemen sustained considerable loss—the goods of the latter were nearly all saved.

James Eager, an Irishman, convicted of murder was hanged in New York on Friday, in pursuance of his sentence.—The N. Y. Express says, that in the morning he expressed a good deal of feeling at the thought that his parents knew nothing of his situation, or of what part of America he was in, and that the first intelligence which they would receive of him would be the account of his execution. He attributed his misconduct to Rum, and said that had it not been for the liquid fire, his condition would be far different.

We never yet knew a boy or a man who from early life spoke truth and shunned a falsehood, that was not virtuous in all other respects, and who did not acquire and enjoy the confidence and esteem of society. Truthfulness is one of the chief corner stones in a good and respectable character. Young man!—never utter a falsehood; never be tempted to depart from strict truth in all you say. False words come from a false heart; and a false heart breeds corruption that soon taints and spoils the whole character.

Cheated the Gallows.—Ambrose H. Jones, under sentence of death for the murder of his step mother, hung himself in the jail of Greenville district, S. C., on the 14th inst. He was about 50 years of age. In his pocket was found the following note to the sheriff:

"Col. D. Hoke: Dear Sir—I have saved you the trouble.

AMBROSE H. JONES.

"I am innocent of the charge."

A WIFE WORTH HAVING.—The distinguished William Wirt, within six or eight months after his first marriage, became addicted to intemperance, the effect of which operated strongly upon the mind and health of his wife, and in a few months more she was numbered with the dead. Her death led him to leave the county where he resided, and he removed to Richmond, where he soon rose to distinction. But his habits hung about him, and occasionally he was found with jolly and frolicsome spirits, in Bacchanalian revelry. His true friends expostulated with him, to convince him of the injury he was doing himself. But he still persisted. His practice began to fall off, and many looked upon him as on the sure road to ruin. He was advised to get married, with a view of correcting his habits. This he consented to do, if the right person offered. He accordingly paid his addresses to Miss Gamble. After some months attention, he asked her hand in marriage. She replied:

"Mr. Wirt, I have been well aware of your intentions for sometime back, and should have given you to understand that your visits and attentions were not acceptable, had I not reciprocated the affection which you evinced for me. But I cannot yield my consent until you make me a pledge never to taste, touch or handle any intoxicating drinks."

This reply to Mr. Wirt was as unexpected as it was novel. His reply was, that he regarded the proposition as a bar to all further consideration of the subject, and left her. Her course to him was the same as ever—his, resentment and neglect. In the course of a few weeks, he went and again solicited her hand. But her reply was, her mind was made up. He became indignant, and regarded the terms she proposed as an insult to his honor, and vowed it should be the last meeting they should ever have.

He took to drinking worse and worse, and seemed to run headlong to ruin. One day, while lying in the outskirts of the city, near a little grocery or grog-shop, dead drunk, a young lady, who it is not necessary to name, was passing that way to her home, not far off, behind him, his face upturned to the rays of a scorching sun. She took her handkerchief, with her own name marked upon it, and placed it over his face. After he had remained in that way for some hours, he was awakened, and his thirst being so great, he went into the little grocery or grog-shop to get a drink, when he discovered the handkerchief, which he looked at, and the name that was on it. After pausing a few minutes, he exclaimed:

"Great God! who left this with me? Who placed it on my face? No one knew. He dropped the glass exclaiming, 'Enough! enough!'"

He retired instantly from the store, forgetting his thirst, but not the debauch, the handkerchief, or the lady, vowing if God gave him strength, never to touch, taste or handle intoxicating drinks.

To meet Miss G. again was the hardest effort of his life. If he met her in her carriage or on foot, he would dodge the nearest corner. She at last addressed him a note, under her own hand, inviting him to the house, which he finally gathered courage enough to accept. He told her if she bore affection for him, he would agree to her own terms. Her reply was:

"My conditions are now what they ever have been."

"Then, said the disenthralled Wirt, 'I accept of them.'"

They were soon married, and from that day he kept his word, and his affairs brightened, while honors and glory gathered thick upon his brow. His name has been enrolled high in the temple of fame, while his deeds, his patriotism and renown, live after him with imperishable lustre. How many noble minds might the young ladies save, if they would follow the example of the heroine-hearted Miss G., the friend of humanity, of her country, and the relative of Lafayette.

[Temperance Advocate.]

Bread Baked by Steam.—The Prairie Farmer says that "a choice loaf of bread may be produced by preparing the dough in the usual way, and then setting the loaf to be baked into a steamer or any large kettle containing a couple of quarts of water, and baking in this manner for fifty minutes by the steam. If a kettle should be used, a couple of bricks may be put into the bottom of it, standing out of the water, upon which to place the tin containing the loaf. When it comes from the kettle, dry it a few moments in the oven, and it is as beautiful a loaf of bread as need be eaten, being wholly without crust." This experiment offers a manifest advantage to those who have the misfortune to be "sans teeth." Let them try it.

A rare instance of filial affection occurred at a New Castle (Eng.) Regatta. A man and his two sons in a boat were run foul of, and the boat being in danger of sinking, the boys threw their father overboard to lighten her, as they knew he was a good swimmer, and the father himself thought it a great act of presence of mind in his sons!

A letter from Washington, N. C. May 1st, states that the large swamps in Beaufort, Tyrell and Hyde counties, were on fire; two whole families burned up in Tyrell, one of the families consisting of a man, his wife, three children and three negroes; of the other family the writer did not learn how many were burned. The whole woods were on fire.

FROM BUENOS AYRES.—The Poulney, Captain, Mowatt, at New York, brings advices from Buenos Ayres to March 8. The following is from the British Packet of Feb. 22.

Despatches from General Servando Gomez, bearing date at Arroyo Malo, the 9th and 10th inst., have been published. Rivera was on the 7th at Yaguari, harassed by the flying division of the liberating forces. On the 6th, Lieutenant Romeo routed the Riverista Major Braga, and a party of 50 men at the sources of the Tacuarembu Grande; the Major and fifteen men being left killed on the field. On the 7th, Major Neyra surprised and captured another Riverista party of ten men, among whom were the three brothers, Gallineras, men of a very daring character, who had rendered great services to Rivera in the conveyance of communications.

President Oribe has issued decrees in unison with that published by the Argentine Government on the 13th inst.

The late American packet schooner Fane, purchased by the Government of Buenos Ayres, and fitted out as a man of war, hoisted the Argentine flag for the first time on Wednesday last, and was christened by the name of the "Maypu," in honor of the victory obtained at that place on the 5th of April, 1818, by the army of the united Provinces of the River Plate, under the command of General San Martin, which emancipated Chili from the dominion of Spain. The sponsors on the occasion were the son and daughter of H. E. the Governor, Don Juan and Dona Manuela Rosas. The Maypu mounts six long eighteen pounders, has a crew of 110 men; including marines, and is commanded by Captain Alvaro Alzogaray. A picture representing the Battle of Maypu has been suspended in her cabin.

On the 18th ult., a party of Riverista marauders, who had made an inroad into the department of Maldonado, were cut to pieces by a detachment of the forces of General Ignacio Oribe.

Subsequently Rivera, eluding, by a precipitate flight, the pursuit of General Servando Gomez, made a sudden attack on the town of Cerro Largo, in the hope of taking it by surprise; but the inhabitants, as on a former occasion, gallantly drove him back with great loss. Among the killed he left upon the field was the notorious Col. Cabral. The rebel horde, after this severe discomfiture, immediately retreated, but not before it had laid waste the country; burning every ranch in the environs of the town. Great hopes were entertained that General Taquiza, who, on receiving information of Rivera's movements, had commenced a rapid march, would succeed in overtaking him.

There were no important changes in the markets.

"Fire on the Mountains."—We learn that a destructive fire has been raging for several days in the Catskill Mountains. The fire commenced in the romantic passage known as the "Clove," and extending upward burnt over the entire "South Mountain," the lofty eminence directly south of the Mountain House. That edifice, although not in danger, was constantly watched by its inmates, and the fire ran down to the wood skirting the southern border of the grounds adjacent to the house. —Albany Argus.

From the Far West.—The St. Louis Republican says that the expresses had arrived from Forts, Platte, Pierre, and Larimer. A young gentleman who has passed the winter at Fort Platte, and who accompanied the express carriers states that the weather has been unusually mild and dry, and only twice had snow fallen on the plains of sufficient depth to make good sleighing, and very little was reported on the mountains. The hunters had been very successful at Fort Platte, but at Fort Pierre, the surrounding prairies, far and near, were burnt in the fall, and the buffalo had been driven off for want of food, which had operated very unfavorably to the hunters.

Violence in New London, Conn.—Two seamen in a drunken brawl in New London, on Friday last, nearly killed one of their companions, named Charles Smith, said to be from Maine. Some of the inhabitants afterwards undertook to tear down the grog shop in which these men had obtained liquor, but were prevented by the police. The seaman who made the first assault was a Portuguese, named Quartier, and he has been committed in default of $1000 bonds.

Great Trotting.—Gen. Dunham's mare, of Albany, on Monday trotted over the Bull's Head Course near that city, one hundred and one miles in nine hours and forty eight minutes, or from 6 A. M. to 12 minutes before 4. She was to trot 100 miles in 10 hours, and she trotted a mile over in 12 minutes short of the time, doing the last mile in 4 minutes, and appearing as fresh as if nothing had happened.

Saving's Bank in Lowell.—Most of the Factory Girls at Lowell make weekly or monthly deposits in the Savings Bank at that city. By a recent report of the Treasurer of the Institution, it appears they have now on deposit $708,692; last year $475,456. This year the number of depositors is 4087—last year 3112.

Hemp.—The quantity of Hemp received in the Maysville market, for the months of January, February and March, as heretofore published, amounted to 1700 tons. The Eagle states that the quantity purchased there by the Maysville Hemp Manufactory, Commission Merchants and Agents, for the month of April, amounts to 840 tons—making, altogether, for the four months ending with April, 2,540 tons. The price of Hemp has run up from $2.62 to $3.25, at which a good article now finds a ready sale.

Military Movements.—The Washington Union, states that Col. Kenney, with several troops of his regiment of dragoons and in pursuance of standing orders from the general chief of 1842, will set out from Fort Leavenworth (on the Missouri) sometime in this month, to make an extensive tour of the prairies beyond. The same paper adds:—"He is to visit numerous tribes of Indians, to counsel them to respect our fur traders and Oregon emigrants, to maintain peace among themselves, and to impress all with the friendship, the vigilance, and the power of the United States. If his horses should be able to maintain themselves on pasture alone, he may go as far as Fort Laramie, (a trader's work) in the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains. The expedition will make a wide sweep, advancing by one route and returning by another. Two other companies of the same regiment (the first dragoons), are about to make a tour with similar objects along the Mississippi, and high up the St. Peter river, which has its mouth near the Great Falls, (St. Anthony) also returning by a different route."

The Board of Visitors of the University of Virginia have published a statement of the late disturbances, and now invite the parents and guardians of such students as have left the University without having participated in acts of insubordination, and without evading the civil process, to cause them to return at the earliest practicable day.

The Burnt District.—The Pittsburg Gazette of Monday last gives the following gratifying picture of the revival of the strong energies of business, and the displacement of the ruins of the late conflagration.

On a stroll through the Burnt District, on Saturday afternoon we counted twenty nine houses, either under roof, or up one or two stories, built since the fire. Some have been occupied several days, for shops and store houses; others are under roof and will soon be occupied. Some of them are very handsome buildings. We did not try to count the number of those the foundations of which are only commenced. The cannot be less than between one and two hundred. Considering that it is only a little over three weeks since the fire, it cannot be denied that very considerable energy and expedition have been manifested. Such is the great labor of removing the rubbish, that in many of the larger buildings and warehouses it is not removed yet, although men have been steadily at work since the heat has subsided. Two or three months will alter the appearance of our principal streets entirely.

Fire in Camden.—The new mill at Camden village, (oakum manufactory,) was destroyed by fire afternoon of 3d inst. The mill was owned by Horatio Alden of Thomaston, a very industrious and worthy citizen, who has lost about $8000. He had $2000 worth of stock destroyed, besides his valuable mill and machinery. The fire originated, it is supposed, from a friction match among the oakum which was passing through the machine. Some eight or ten men were at work in the mill at the time, and so rapidly did the fire run through the oakum, that they had not time to save even their jackets, which hung in another part of the room. —Thomaston Recorder.

Heart-rending Affair.—We learn, says the Cincinnati Commercial, that a most heart rending affair took place at Hamilton, Ohio, on Saturday last. A young man at that place was crossing the Miami river on horseback, with his intended wife, a lovely girl, when the latter's horse stumbled and she fell into the water. Her lover hastened to her assistance when she threw her arms around his neck. The current carried them both into deep water; both were drowned while locked in each other's arms. On Sunday the body of the young man had been recovered, and between one and two thousand persons were gathered to search for the other.

The Pittsburg Relief Fund.—The Pittsburg Spirit of the Age of the 9th inst. acknowledges the receipt of donations in cash entered on the Treasurer's books for the relief of sufferers by fire in that city amounting to $97,219 67.

Murderer Arrested.—We learn upon good authority, that Leary, the murderer of his father in law, Mr. Butler of Mt. Morris, was arrested at that place on Thursday last, having been found concealed in an old out building near the village. He was safely lodged in prison. —Rocheater Adv., 10th.

New York Legislature.—The bill which has undergone an animated discussion in the New York Legislature, providing for a convention for revising and amending the state constitution, finally passed, in both Houses on Tuesday, and wants only the Governor's signature to make it a law.

FROM KINGSTON, W. I.—An arrival at Charleston confirms the news of the death of President Guerrier, of Hayti, and the election of Gen. Pierot in his place.

President Guerrier is said to have died under singular circumstances, which do great credit to his humanity. The ten persons lately reported by a contemporary to have been shot, were not executed, but the order for death was laid before him for his signature. This, however, he refused to affix to it, as he did not consider that they deserved death; and, he is reported to have said, "I am old man myself, and have but a few short days to live; why, therefore, should I deprive my fellow citizens of life?" Having said this he fell back and expired! We do not vouch for the correctness of this report, although we have no reason to doubt its authenticity.

Acasu, who, on the accession of Guerrier was imprisoned and first sentenced to five years' banishment, then had that sentence commuted to three years, and finally was altogether pardoned, is at present commandant of a small town on the Spanish frontier, to which post he was appointed by President Guerrier, after he was pardoned. It is supposed, however; that he would not remain quiet on hearing the death of Guerrier, but would make an endeavor to thrust himself once more into Presidential honors—not, however, that there appears any reasonable prospect of success.

The schooner Dove, from Aux Cayes, reports that all was quiet at that place; two French vessels of war were lying there; $10,000 had been offered for the head of Herard, and three vessels sent out in search of him, but returned unsuccessful.

CAPE HAYTIEN, April 28, 1845.—Everything has been quiet here since the departure of the President who has been proclaimed, with rejoicings, at Plaisance, and other places, on his march towards the West.

Today, a State funeral is being performed, in honor of Guerrier.

By a decree published here on the 24th, the military is declared to supersede all other authority; and the members of the "Council of State" are officers of the army, holding their appointments only during the President's will, the government of the French part of Hayti may be considered as strictly military.

The new President is a full black, over six feet high, erect in figure, and about seventy two years old. He still rides well, is often on horseback, and, for his age, is very active and vigorous. He has little or no education, but is said to be gifted with considerable natural shrewdness, and to be temperate in his habits—in the latter particular, having greatly the advantage of his predecessor. His wife, from whom he has long been separated, has for some years past been residing in Sicily, with her sister, the ex-Queen.

A merchant of this place, named Praderes, engaged in the American trade, has been appointed by Pierault to succeed him, as General, or Military Governor of the North.

The alarm arising from an expected invasion by Herard appears to have passed away. There is little doubt, however, that this panic served to precipitate the choice upon Pierault, as it was well known that the latter otherwise intended to urge his claims with all the force at his command.

We have no late news from the South about which there is some anxiety; it being Herard's former place of residence, and Pierault is supposed to be much less popular there, than at the North and West. A re-union with the Spanish part of the Island is no longer spoken of. —Corr. Phil. Exchange.

TEXAS, according to a judicial decision recently pronounced in a U. S. Circuit Court at Mobile, is already annexed.—The Herald of that city, says that the question came up by a juror, petitioning to be excused from the performance of his assigned duty, on the plea that he was a citizen of Texas, Judge Bragg, on the bench, ordered him to take his seat in the box with the other eleven, giving for his reason that Texas was a part of the Union, and all her citizens liable to be called upon to do duty as citizens of the United States.

Destructive Storm.—A very severe hail storm visited the vicinity of Hartford, Md. on the 28th ult., according to the Madisonian of that place, its severity in the neighborhood of Michaelsville was appalling, and the injury it did, considerable. Colonel Jacob Michael, an affluent and respectable farmer, had two or three young orchards entirely destroyed, and a house of one of his tenants blown down. His loss is supposed to be at least one thousand dollars.

The house in which John J. Dallam resided was blown down, and the timbers fell around him as he lay indisposed in his bed, providentially escaping unhurt. His furniture and dwelling a total loss.

William Lester's house and furniture a total loss; also, the dwelling house of William Pradfield.

John S. Hall had a tenant house destroyed, and Mrs. Ford likewise. The new dwelling house of Ephraim Brown, unfinished, was much injured. John Greenlee's stable was blown down, and his horses much injured. A calf, as well as birds, ducks and fowls, was killed by the hail. The bark was literally stripped from the trees, by the powerful peltings of the storm.

FORGERY.—Mr. George Q. Pomeroy of Cleveland, where he has hitherto sustained a high character for integrity, has been guilty of forgery. The Herald of that city states that he drew a draft of five thousand dollars upon a firm in New York, and forged the acceptance thereof—offered it for discount to one of the Cleveland bankers, and obtained about 3,900 upon it. This transaction, and other things now brought to light, it is also said, prove that Pomeroy and he alone, is guilty of the fraud upon the Phoenix Bank of Hartford, in relation to the loan of $12,000 upon the pledge of a package of bills of the Commercial Bank of Buffalo, and which, on being opened, contained nothing but blank paper. The Herald adds, that no imputation, directly or indirectly, rests upon the character of his partner, C. J. Woolson, Esq., touching his connection with said package of bills, as a member of the firm of Woolson & Pomeroy. Mr. Woolson, it seems, has been made the innocent victim of a long series of frauds and deceptions of his partner Pomeroy. Mr. Pomeroy left Cleveland one week since for the city of New York, as he said, and has not since been heard from; and it is since his departure that the astounding developments have been made. A heavy pecuniary loss will fall upon Mr. Woolson, but his business will go on as heretofore, without embarrassment.

Steamboat Collision.—Bob Letcher, about 15 miles above this city, the steamboat Hard Times, going up, came in collision with the Bob Letcher coming down, and sunk her in about twelve feet water. Her cargo, consisting of about 200 pieces and coils of bagging and rope, 66 bales of hemp, and some twenty hogsheads of tobacco, will be saved in a damaged state. The passengers and crew of the Letcher were prodigiously frightened, and some jumped into the river, but no lives were lost. The Bob Letcher cannot be raised. Her machinery and furniture can be saved. The boat was insured at Lexington. —[Louisville Journal, Saturday.]

The Buffalo Commercial gives an account of a family of Athens who are on their way to settle in Wisconsin, where they are to found a village called Allen village in Walworth county. There are three generations, numbering 112 souls, of whom 50 are now on their way, to be quickly followed by the rest. The patriarch of the family, Philip Allen, who is with the emigrating party, is 88 years old, has five sons and three daughters—was a soldier in the Revolution, and receives a pension from the Government. A large proportion of the family are members of the Presbyterian Church, and have engaged a pastor for the new congregation which they will form in Allen village.

Conflict with a Whale.—A Man Killed.—We learn by Capt. Charles A. Cook, of the packet David Crockett, that Mr. Seth S. Snow was killed instantly by a whale, off Race Point, Provincetown, last Tuesday, in the following manner:—As soon as the whale was discovered, two boats, one containing five and the other four persons, made in pursuit, and each boat succeeded in fastening their irons, when the whale turned upon them, and coming upon one boat head foremost, utterly demolished it, killing instantly Mr. Snow, leaving the others afloat in the water. The other boat severed their line, and succeeded in rescuing the drowning persons, when the whale made for them also, but by hard pulling they reached the shore in safety, the whale following close in their wake, as far as the depth of water would permit. This is said to be the first instance in which a whale has attacked a boat in this manner, upon our shores.

From Havana.—By the Rapidat New York, we have received files up to the 30th ult. There was an undertaking contemplated to establish a line of steamboat communication between the Island of Cuba and Porto Rico, for the purpose of transporting the mails between the two islands. The steamboat Natchez was to be the pioneer in this line, and the government had agreed to afford a certain degree of support to strengthen the enterprise. It was to commence in all this month, and on the route to Porto Rico they are to touch at the various ports of Gibara, Mayari, and Baracoa—also Neuvas.

The Habaneros were rejoicing over the increase of omnibuses in their city.

Morse's Telegraph.—Professor Morse passed through this city this morning to Philadelphia to complete arrangements for putting up a line of telegraphic wires between that city and New York. The stock, we understand, is all taken. Arrangements, we learn, are soon to be made for establishing a line between Baltimore and Philadelphia. When these are completed, there will be a complete communication between Washington and New York. A line is also to be established between New York and Boston. Since the Telegraph has been regularly established here, terminating in the post office building, it has been busily engaged transmitting intelligence—creating a revenue more than adequate to the expense of operating it. Merchants are gradually availing themselves of its advantages—several orders for goods, &c., having been sent backwards and forwards this morning. —Balt. Pat.

Passengers can now pass between Montreal and New York, a distance of 400 miles, in 24 hours!

CRIMINALITY AND MURDER.—A man named Coit was murdered, on Tuesday the 6th inst. at Otiselic, Chenango Co., N. Y., by a man named Griffin. The seduction of Griffin's wife by Coit, led to the commission of the crime. Griffin is in custody. The following are the circumstances, as given by the correspondent of the Albany Argus:

"It seems that Griffin had resided in Otiselic until within a year past, for some ten years. Some time in April, 1844, Coit seduced Griffin's wife, and compelled Griffin, who is an ignorant and harmless man, to let him have his farm, and return to this town. Coit retained Griffin's wife. Griffin had endeavored by all legal means during this time, to rescue his wife from her disgraceful situation, but on account of threats from Coit, Griffin dared not go there, and even here (20 miles from Coit's) he has been constantly armed, being in constant fear of Coit. Some days since, Griffin received a letter from his wife, professing penitence, and a desire to return to her family in this town. Upon the receipt of this letter, Griffin, in company with his wife's brother, went to Coit's upon the errand. But Griffin was afraid to venture into the house, except upon the strongest urging of his brother-in-law; and when he did so, he was prepared with a pistol, ready loaded and cocked. As soon as he entered Coit said, 'Jim, I understand you have been armed for the last year, now d—n you, leave the house.' Griffin hastily obeyed him, and after leaving the house, in endeavoring to let down the hammer of his pistol, which was in his pantaloons pocket, it discharged, the ball entering his thigh just below his body, and lodging in his knee. All who were in the house, hearing Griffin hallo, went out and found him running round, crying, 'Don't let him hurt me.' Coit said 'Jim, have you killed yourself?' When Griffin coming round him caught up a whiffletree that lay near by, and dealt Coit a blow upon the back of the head, which literally smashed his skull to atoms. And after Coit fell, struck him twice more before the spectators interfered. Coit lived only about two hours. Griffin did not attempt to escape, but remained there until the sheriff came and took him into custody."

Destructive Fire in Boston.—Sunday afternoon, soon after half past 2 o'clock and just before the time for the second bell for divine service, the carpenter's shop of Mr. George Newell, at the foot of South Cedar street, near the receiving basin of the Mill Dam Corporation, took fire, and the wind being fresh from the Westward, it speedily communicated to the adjoining buildings in that street and the foot of Piedmont street, and was not arrested until upwards of twenty-five dwelling houses, chiefly wood, were destroyed. Some of the furniture of the occupants was removed several times, and some burnt in its last place of deposit. The loss will not probably fall short of $30,000, and the amount of insurance is probably not over 10 or $12,000.

Both sides of South Cedar street to Church street were destroyed, with the exception of the dwelling of Mr. Alfred Morgan, printer, on the corner, which was injured in the roof and upper part, and his furniture was damaged by removal. The Methodist Church, occupied by the Society under Rev. Mr. Raymond, on Church street, and between South Cedar and Piedmont street, was considerably injured in the roof and tower. Fortunately, the fire did not cross Church street, or the damage in the narrow streets beyond, would probably have been very great.

All the buildings on the southerly side of Piedmont street, to the Church, were destroyed, and several on the north side of the street, commencing about midway, and extending to the large brick dwelling house at the corner of Church street, which was hardly injured.

Boston Advertiser.

Letter Envelopes.—As the time approaches for the new Post Office Law to go into operation, business men and others should prepare themselves with envelopes, for their letters, as then it will subject them to no additional charge. Besides being a much safer and neater manner for putting up letters, than the present, it secures them from the investigations of the curious.

We see them advertised in a Buffalo paper at 15 to 50 cents per 100. By proper economy in the manufacture they can be afforded, of good quality, at a still cheaper rate.

The Swallow is indeed an ill fated boat. We learn from the officer of the Empire, which came down last night, that the Swallow was raised again yesterday morning she was floated away some distance intending to ground her on the flats, below Athens, but unfortunately, the ponderous chains parted again and she sunk deeper than ever. Capt. Squire came down to this city this morning, intending, if possible, to obtain fastenings, which are beyond the possibility of breaking. —New York Express.

"HE DIED AS THE FOOT DIETH." On Friday of last week, at a brick-yard in the lower part of the borough of Reading, Pa., a young man named Henry Grush, in attempting to accomplish a feat of strength he witnessed another perform, that of twirling a "fifty six" weight around the head three successive times, with the little finger, overtasked his powers, and falling backward on the ground, ruptured an artery in the head, from the effects of which accident he died on Wednesday last.

U. S. Journal.

The Baltimore Patriot states that quiet has been entirely restored in the University of Virginia, and that the duties of the institution have been resumed under much more favorable auspices than its friends anticipated after the late rebellion—which was much exaggerated in the first accounts of it. All the students whom the Faculty would consent to receive, have returned, and the best feeling prevailed among all connected with the institution. The prospects of this venerable institution have not been impaired by the late proceedings.

Strawberries are plenty in Cincinnati.

From the N. Y. Cour. & Enq.
THE GREAT RACE—THE SOUTH VICTORIOUS.

Never have we witnessed an excitement in this city in relation to any sporting subject, so generally pervading all classes of the community, as that which for some days past has existed in relation to the contest between the sportsmen of the North and South, and which was triumphantly determined in favor of the South.

Of the number of persons on the Union Course we have heard various estimates. It is impossible to judge in such cases with any thing like accuracy; but we venture to place it at between seventy and one hundred thousand.

Although the race was advertised to come off at one o'clock, P. M. it was fourteen minutes past two when the Police succeeded in getting the course sufficiently clear to start the competitors.—Peytona had the inside track. They went off in fine style, and at the termination of the first mile, Peytona was about a length ahead. After this she suffered Fashion to lap her; and in this position the remaining three miles were run until near the close of the fourth, when Peytona shot ahead about three lengths and won with ease, hard in hand. The time was as follows, according to our account,

1st Mile, 1 52
2d " 1 55
3d " 1 56
4th " 1 57
Total, 7 40

It was proclaimed by the Judges to have been run in 7 m. 39 3/4.

Betting was now three to one upon the Southern nag, and very few takers.—Five to one was subsequently offered and refused.

At the signal, both nags again presented themselves, but it was manifest to the experienced sportsman that Fashion had not "died up" as the phrase is, quite as well as her competitor.

At the lap of the drum they were again off in fine style.—Peytona of course, on the inner track. On the third quarter of the first mile Fashion made play, passed her, and took the track. Peytona immediately placed herself along side, but Fashion came in half a length ahead. In this position the entire second mile was run, Peytona passing the stand a neck ahead. The third mile was run without a change of position; but as they passed the Judges' stand, the rider of Peytona let her out, and she darted ahead as if up to that moment she had not been permitted to exhibit her speed. He was evidently satisfied that he had it all his own way, and quietly returned to his position side by side with Fashion. In this position the fourth mile was run, Peytona winning the heat and the race hard in hand, with Fashion's nose lapping her!

Never was there witnessed on any course, so beautiful a race. During the whole eight miles run, the nags were lapping each other with the exception of about a quarter of a mile. They might literally have been covered with a blanket. But this it must be admitted, was entirely owing to the fact that the rider of Peytona was conscious of her superior foot and bottom, and felt that he had it all his own way. The time of the second heat we made as follows:

1st mile, 1 57
2d do, 1 55
3d do, 1 55 1/4
4th do, 1 57 1/2
Total, 7 44 3/4

Proclaimed by the Judges to have been run in 7 45 1/4.

Official Time.—1st heat, 7 39 3/4
2d do, 7 45 1/4
Thus terminated this great contest between the North and South.

Fashion is eight years old, and was rode by Joseph Laird, carrying 123 lbs. weight.

Peytona is six years old, and was rode by Barney (F. C. Palmer), carrying 118 lbs. weight.

A DEAF-MUTE WEDDING.—We attended, by invitation, at the Allen street Presbyterian Church, last evening to witness the marriage ceremony, in which two deaf-mutes were the principals.—The building was thronged with spectators.

The Rev. Mr. Carey, one of the teachers of the Deaf and Dumb Institution, arrived a short time before eight o'clock, and at that hour the bridegroom, Mr. J. W. Jennings, and the bride, Miss Mary Ann Reeves, preceded up the middle aisle and stood in front of the railing.—The clergyman then proclaimed if there were any objections to the marriage, they should be declared. None were made of course. The five hundred persons would have been much disappointed if any valid objections had really been offered. The attendants were two deaf-mutes and the party were intelligent and fine looking people. The exhortations, the questions to the betrothed and the prayer, were all expressed in the language of signs. A Bible was presented to the bride, a very pretty girl, and the whole affair concluded with some congratulations upon her fair cheeks, and a shaking of hands. It was an interesting spectacle.—N. Y. True Sun.

The Burlington Free Press says that six coaches each drawn by six horses were required to bring on the British Mail in Canada, and the passengers by the Hibernia. They arrived at Burlington on Wednesday evening and took passage in the Saranac for St. Johns.

LATER FROM MEXICO.—By the Creole at New Orleans, we have papers from Vera Cruz to the 23d ult, and private advices to the 23d inclusive.

There is, however, no intelligence of interest, as the accounts from the capital are not any later than before received.

By this arrival we hear not a word more of Mr. Shannon the American Minister.

Mexico has not declared war against the United States, although rumors were rife in New Orleans that she had done so.

The four American vessels of war were still lying at Sacrifices. Should Capt. Stockton's squadron join them, as is anticipated, the fleet will consist of eight vessels of war, mounting in all 154 guns.

Agricultural.

FENCES.—Take another look at your enclosures and see that your fences are sound, firm, high and close. If you do not, and should unhappily wake up some morning and find your cattle in the corn, your pigs in the peas, &c., you will please to recollect that we told you so. After planting, and before weeding, you will probably have time to make some excellent stone wall. See that you make it where it is most needed, and what you make should be well made. We do not like certain apologies for fences we every now and then come across, in the course of our agricultural tours. A jagged, cobbled, half built wall, in which the stones look as if they were huddled together by chance, or by an earthquake, not all disposed to be sociable, but each seems to say to its neighbor, please to keep your distance, is an abomination on any man's farm. We have seen to many of such rough monuments of laziness, which seem to have been tossed together for no other purpose but to afford the quadrupeds of the place the means of taking practical lessons in the art of jumping.

UNPRODUCTIVE LAND.—How many are there who own from 300 to 500, and even more acres of land, of which one-third, or at least one sixth part lies unproductive in useless brushwood, in uncleared swamps, or in land rendered worse than profitless, for want of proper draining the owner not seeming to remember that for every such acre not yielding something in grass pasture, in tillage, or in growing timber, he should charge himself with so much lost or thrown into the fire or the sea. There is no mistake more common than that of supposing that the more land a man has, the greater must be his profits—forgetting that the profits arise not from the land itself, any more than from an idle mill or ship, but from the skill and manner of using it, and so indispensable is capital in the business of farming, that in general it may be laid down as an axiom, that money employed in agriculture, will yield in an inverse ratio to the ratio to which it is applied.—Skinner's Address

ONION SEED.—Onion seed should always be soaked from ten to twenty-four hours before sowing. The pericarp of this seed is singularly hard and tenacious and it committed to the soil without previous preparation, it frequently fails, as the extremely indurated nature of the integument resist the action of moisture, and thus ensures the vitality to the seed. After immersion pour off the water, and introduce a sufficiency of fine loam, ashes or plaster of paris to absorb the moisture, and facilitate the process of sowing. Some prefer letting the seed remain in the loam till germination takes place. Immediate sowing, however, we consider as much more judicious, especially when the seed is known to be good. [See Cultivator.]
